Forever Black and White

Black and White is back! Not only are they our school colors, they are the symbols of our character. It's classy and conservative, and never goes out of style. For the class of 1991, this book captures what "black and white" has meant to us over the past four years.

Since Freshman year when Glenbrook and Williams were united as the Class of 1991, we have shared many memories. When you reflect on your high school years, this book will take you back through an unforgettable Senior year. We have preserved it all for you in black and white - forever.

Sincerely,
Eriko Watanabe and
Archana Unni,
Editors-in-Chief

Above - It must be Friday. Seniors Melinda Webber and Audrey Rossow are all smiles as they leave school.

Right - There's no time for Senior Derek Anable to stop and talk after school.

Top - Comfort is the word for Senior Ravi Thakur as he prepares for English Class.

Middle - Seniors Laura Boehm and Julie Zollmann are excited to get out from school on a sunny Friday afternoon.

Dedication
Nancy Dudley

Dedicated, caring, sensitive, and intelligent are all synonymous with Mrs. Ann Dudley - this year's recipient of the Yearbook Dedication Award. This designation demonstrates the high esteem in which the seniors hold Mrs. Dudley.

The respect for Mrs. Dudley runs deeper than just the senior class. The entire faculty, administration, and all of her past and present students admire her sincere enthusiasm for the Latin language.

Mrs. Dudley has touched the lives of many students during her 31 years of teaching at Longmeadow High School. She is renowned for teaching "ubiquitous" Latin, but she also instructed French classes for many years.

Mrs. Dudley has been involved with the students of Longmeadow High School outside of the classroom as well. She advised the National Honor Society for 19 years, and has created and guided the Latin Club from 1981 until the present.

The administration rewarded Mrs. Dudley for all of her efforts when they appointed her the Foreign Language Department Chairperson in 1988. Already she has acquired computers for the Language curriculum and created a "Foreign Language Week" to spread her spirit for foreign languages.

Mrs. Dudley's devotion to teaching and her positive attitude have inspired all who have come in contact with her.

Congratulations and thank you, Mrs. Dudley!

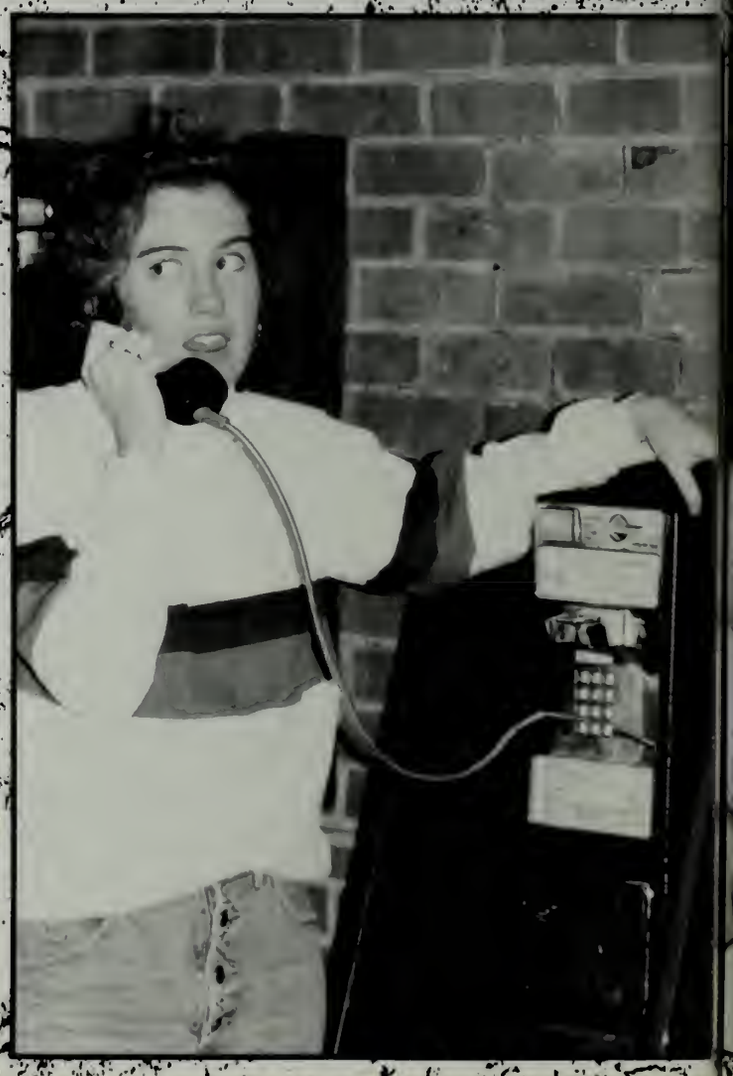
Reflections of Black & White



Seniors

We are the Class of 1991, a unique mixture of academically, athletically, and artistically talented individuals who combined to create a very diverse and yet unified class. We demonstrated our class unity with the early opening of the Senior Lounge and our outstanding participation in the senior class activities including the Halloween Dance, the Daisy-Weed Game, the Senior Class Road Race, the Junior-Senior Semi-Formal, the Senior Class Play, and the Prom.

We have grown together during our four years at Longmeadow High School - making new friends, developing our talents, and most of all working together to establish our own special class, the Class of 1991.

Senior Lounge

The senior lounge has brought a sense of comfort and relaxation from the agonies of college applications and A.P. courses into the lives of LHS seniors.

For years, the senior lounge has been one of the most treasured privileges of the senior class. At almost any hour of the school day, the lounge can be found full of seniors reclining on a variety of used furniture brought especially for this purpose.

The back wall of the lounge is lined with murals of such rock and movie legends as Eric Clapton, Jack Nicholson, James Dean, Jimmy Hendrix, Mick Jagger, and Marilyn Monroe. This adds to the festive relaxing atmosphere of the place.

The door to the room is covered with announcements pertaining to events such as the Daisy/Weed Game, the Senior Class Play, and the Banquet. Also on the front door are the names for a new system implemented by Senior Class Executive Vice President Jessica Friedman, in which each week of school five seniors are designated to be responsible for keeping the lounge clean. This action has accounted for the minimal number of lounge closings this year.

The senior lounge this year has acted as a haven for "stressed-out" and laid-back seniors to retire to in their last year at LHS.

Halloween Dance

It was the eerie Saturday evening of October 27, and multitudes of cars and buses carrying dozens of devils, billions of bunnies, and an assortment of other costumed creatures were arriving to take over the Powder Mill Barn in Enfield, Connecticut. No, it wasn't a scene from Night of the Living Dead, it was the Junior-Senior Halloween Dance, and the LHS upperclassmen were indeed ready to celebrate the holiday.

The Party Doctor, who disk-jockeyed the event, enlivened the dance by playing a great selection of songs, including a few of the favorite oldies. The juniors and seniors readily showed off some of their greatest dance moves (from behind their masks, of course).

One enthusiastic Junior stated "It was a lot of fun to get together and dance with my friends. It was great being able to socialize at an organized event outside of the halls of LHS."

This was the first Junior/Senior event of the year, and for the most part the evening was a success. Refreshments were available for those who had worked up a thirst while dancing to the fast paced tunes. Upperclassmen, in general, had a wonderful time dancing, talking, eating, and complimenting each other on their costumes.

With the end of first quarter looming near, the Halloween dance was a timely opportunity to take a break from the stress of schoolwork.

Carolyn Zimmer

Top Right - "I'm telling you that blonds have more fun!" says Junior Sean Murphy at the Halloween Dance.

Middle Right - Seniors Cherie Bergeron, Jason Roberts, Erinn Bartlett, Margie Sylvia, and Mary Lawrence get a breath of fresh air after some intense dancing!

From Your Advisors:

The wide variety of extracurricular activities at Longmeadow High School provide our students with the opportunity to experience many social events, as well as to achieve leadership roles within the high school community. The long list of achievements of the Class of '91, whether academic, financial, or social functions, have made our jobs as advisors very pleasurable. Your spirit of camaraderie, and commitment to the entire school community, have been unwavering through all the good times we have shared. You have also lent your support to others during times of personal tragedy. You are to be congratulated for both your demonstrations of spirit and your empathy towards your fellow classmates.

As you move on beyond the walls of Longmeadow High School, there will be numerous challenges that you will meet. We are confident that you have developed the necessary skills to deal with these successfully, and we commend you for this. We have developed an abiding respect for you as individuals and as a group, and hope that our time together has been as enjoyable for you as it has been for us.

Proudly, we remain your advisors, teachers, and friends. Best wishes and Godspeed.

George A. Carellas
Jacqueline Sutter
Advisors, Class of '91

The Class of 1991 would like to thank Miss Affron for her three years of dedication as our advisor.

Class Council

The senior class council has once again shown its amazing potential and devotion through a variety of well-planned and entertaining activities this year. With Class President Christopher Martinelli, Committee Vice-President Jessica Friedman, Executive Vice-President Stuart Glasser, Secretary Tammy Butler, and Treasurer Brett Kaufman leading the way, the class of 1991 successfully completed an exciting year.

Worthwhile fundraisers such as the door to door bottle drive with the Key Club and the annual Road Race added to the senior class treasury, and topped off their long list of accomplishments. With the pressure of college and life looming over them, the seniors also planned many enjoyable activities to relieve their anxieties, such as the Daisy/Weed Game and the Junior/Senior Semi-Formal. The seniors also put on The Wizard of Oz as their senior class play.

Devoted Class Advisors Mr. Carellas and Mrs. Sutter diligently worked with the members of the class council to reach important decisions involving programming, fundraisers, and communication within the senior class. The eventful year was culminated with such traditional senior events as the Senior Banquet and the Prom. Thanks to the leadership and involvement of the individuals in the class of 1991, the seniors took pride in an exceptional and fantastic year.

Daisy/Weed Game

The score was 26-22, and the Weeds once again emerged victorious in one of the most fiercely competitive Daisy/Weed girls football games ever to grace the LHS playing fields.

Spirited senior girls arrived at LHS early on the morning of Saturday, November 17, adorned in their respective outfits. After breakfast at their chosen meeting places, the game began.

Both teams played excellently, with Jodi Stevens scoring three touchdowns for the Daisies; Laurel Hayes, Margie Sylvia, Kim VanGaasbeck and Debbie Drummey were all noted as key players for the Daisies. However, the Weed offense, powered by Rachael Stone who scored two touchdowns, as well as Traci Marchese and Catherine Egan, who each scored one, proved to surpass the Daisies' efforts.

The game was interrupted every now and then by a masquerade of "cheerleaders," senior boys dressed in the latest girls cheerleading attire, amusing all of the spectators with their lively antics.

More important than winning the game was the objective of having fun, and the senior girls certainly fulfilled that aspect of the game.

Senior Class Play

On Thursday, January 31, the curtain rose on one of the most exciting senior class plays ever to grace the Longmeadow High School stage. The Wizard of Oz, thanks to skillful directing, faithful advising, and spirited acting and singing was a huge success and raised a great deal of money for the class of 1991.

The lead role of Dorothy was played by Deborah Hoffman, and co-stars included Seth Shomes as the Scarecrow, Patrick McMonagle as the Tin Man, David Kim as the Cowardly Lion, Laine Armstrong as the Wicked Witch of the West, and Erica Haley as Glenda. All of the cast members agreed that creating the play was among the most memorable of senior experiences.

Dedicated directors of the senior class play were Dana Raymond and Jason Rothschild. It was their patience, perseverance, and spirit that brought the play together so well. Also deserving of praise are producers Mandy Thomas and Damaris Curran, who took care of behind-the-scenes technicalities. The choreographer, who brought the many munchkins and other characters together in dance, was Rachel Glazer. The play also would not have been a successful musical without the superb performance of the pit orchestra conducted by Jessica Friedman.

The senior class wishes to extend a hearty thanks to class Advisors George Carellas and Jaqueline Sutter, whose patience and dedication were essential in the planning of the play.

The senior class play The Wizard of Oz, was a treat for all involved, as well as for all who viewed any of the three performances. Congrats, class of 1991!

Essence of Black & White

Underclass

How long will it be until I'm as tall as that senior? When am I going to get out of Earth Science? Why do they have to promote us to junior year? I wonder how long it will be before I get my license? Will I get more than ten hours of sleep during term paper week? I wonder what the senior lounge looks like?

These are just a few of the questions swirling in the minds of underclassmen as they slowly but surely climb the long ladder to seniorhood. While in their freshman, sophomore and junior years, the underclassmen all add their own special talents, goals, and capabilities to the student body to enrich LHS to its fullest. They account for a large portion of the membership of our clubs and organizations, and, in essence, will be the backbone of LHS's future. Within several years they will be seniors, leading the school to greater heights and paving the way for a new group of underclassmen. Best of luck to our future leaders! In the meantime, their spirits are high and their determination stands free.

Juniors

The life of a junior brings many changes that one must adjust to. This is the year that many privileges are usually obtained, including a driver's license. No longer do these hardworking juniors with cars have to bike through the rain, snow, or freezing weather to get to school. They can drive anywhere they need to go, and some even have a permit which allows them to park in the student parking lot. This year, juniors are not only allowed to leave if they have last block free, but can also take advantage of this year's new policy of late morning entry if they have any first block free.

However along with these benefits comes a great deal of responsibility and schoolwork. The junior year is well-known for its rigorous academic curriculum, as well as the endless hours of homework that must be completed.

However, the junior year is not all work. Being a junior means being able to attend the Halloween Dance in the fall and the Junior/Senior Semi-Formal in the winter. The accomplishments and experiences of junior year will greatly help students in the years to come.

Jr./Sr. Semi-Formal

It was five o'clock pm on January 20, 1991, and all over Longmeadow, the junior and senior girls were slipping into their evening dresses and applying make-up, while the young men were adjusting their ties and dabbing themselves with cologne. Why all the fuss? Within an hour they would be getting together with their dates or with their friends to have dinner, and afterwards they would arrive at the most exciting upperclassmen event of the year: The Junior/Senior Semi-Formal.

This gala event took place on the evening of January 20, at Chez Josef in Agawam. As people arrived, the Disc Jockey began the spirited dance music. Within minutes, juniors and seniors were spinning and twirling around the dance floor. The DJ took requests and played everything from popular favorites such as "U Can't Touch This" by M.C. Hammer to oldies such as "American Pie" and "Twist and Shout." The magnificent semi-formal drew to a reluctant close around midnight. Longmeadow High School upperclassmen and their dates filed out of the restaurant and headed off to friends' houses or back to their own houses. Wherever their next destination, happy memories of the fun-filled semi-formal would remain in their hearts and minds for years to come.

Pep Rally

As a conclusion to Spirit Week, a pep rally was held. It is supposed to psych up our football team so they can cream East Longmeadow in the annual Thanksgiving Day game. The rally served its purpose, for the Lancers destroyed the Spartans 40-0!

The Varsity Cheerleaders performed three cheers; one of which was accompanied by the band. The band played a variety of other songs as well.

To start things off Dr. Murphy led a wave which went around five times. Then, after singing an off-key rendition of the "The Brady Bunch," Senior Brett Kaufman led the individual class cheers. The freshmen's cheer was strong but simple: "You can't ignore the Class of '94." The sophomore's cheers, unfortunately, did not go over well. The junior class said they were so supreme that they did not need a cheer. The seniors used the L-A-N-C-E-R cheer as their own. Following this, Mr. Deary, the athletic director, gave awards to Mr. Berte for coaching the Weeds, the winners of the Daisy-Weed game, and to the individual teams. Dr. Murphy offered awards to the freshman class for making their first event to benefit others, and to the Key Club for collecting three thousand cans of food. After the athletic awards, the pep rally came to a close.

Sophomores

Trivia question: What point in your high school career are you least likely to remember?

If you said, "my sophomore year," you are absolutely correct! Sophomore year usually doesn't stand out in one's memory, because it is not associated with the newness of being a freshman, the term papers and driver's license that usually accompanies junior year, or the college hunting that takes place in the senior year.

However, this year's sophomore class may very well be an exception to the rule. Through the dedicated efforts of Class President Zachary Stillerman, Vic President Whitney Harrelson, Secretary Taryn Barkman, and Treasurer Elizabeth Hahesy, the Sophomore class of 1991 has executed many successful programs including the Sophomore Semi-Formal at Chez Josef, the spring carwash fundraiser, and a lucrative candy sale.

Sophomore Class President Zachery Stillerman states "The best aspect of being a sophomore is the new freedoms with which we are granted, especially with the new free block system. However, along with these freedoms comes a more challenging academic workload, as well as greater academic and social responsibilities. Stillerman feels, however, that the class handled these responsibilities very well.

With help and guidance from their class advisors Ms. McShane and Ms. Walker, the sophomores have transformed this sometimes awkward intermediate year into a comfortable and fun combination of class activities and school work.

Oceans of velvet, clouds of taffeta, and seas of lace were seen whirling about the dance floor at Chez Josef, home of the annual Longmeadow High School Sophomore Semi-Formal, which was held this year on Novemer 1, 1990.

The evening began at 7:00 p.m. with a "coketail hour," in which members of the class of '93 were given a chance to arrive, check their coats, and chat with their friends, admiring the glamorous dresses and smart jacket and tie combinations of their classmates.

Next, the sophomores were presented with a delectable sit-down dinner, consisting of a choice of prime rib, chicken or shrimp, along with veggies and dessert, catered by Chez Josef.

After the plates were cleared, it was time for the main feature of the evening: the long awaited dance. Thanks to the choice combination of the latest hits, mixed with classic oldies by the experienced DJ's of the evening, the spirited members of the class of '93 and their dates had the times of their lives dancing the night away. Songs ranged from the slow favorite "Wonderful Tonight" by Eric Clapton to "Twist and Shout" by the Beatles to "U Can't Touch This" by MC Hammer, which allowed many daring dancers to show off their latest moves.

As the evening all too quickly drew to a close, the tired but happy sophomores drifted out of Chez Josef to attend post-party get togethers at their friends' houses. The Sophomore Semi-Formal proved to be an exciting, memorable evening for all who attended.

Touch Football

This fall, every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, before the Lancer football team assumed control of the football field, spirited touch football teams competed in enjoyable yet serious games of touch football. Assistant Principal Larry Berte, with the help of Key Club volunteers, officiated these highly competitive games. Seven teams constituted the Touch Football League this year: the Stallions, BILL, the Gators, J&J, the Panthers, Air Attack, and Experience.

Of all the senior teams, Air Attack dominated the league this year. On an average they beat their opponents by at least thirty points. In the final game of the play-offs, Air Attack defeated another senior team, J&J, by a score of 42-6. Team member Sameer Brahmavar commented, "We crush teams. We're great!" Other team members included Stu Sherman, Stu Glasser, Jeff Mitchell, Jeff Gold, Ravi Thakur, Matt Youmell, Andre Ezell, and Jason Hyatt. Experience and teamwork led Air Attack to an undefeated season. Ravi Thakur stated, "Our potent offense and our crushing defense led us to victory."

The spirited competition and involvement in the Touch Football League added a whole new dimension to the game of football at LHS this year.

Freshmen

Being a freshman means entering an unknown, huge, intimidating high school building, and roaming the halls with sophomores, juniors, and seniors who seem intimidating compared to the middle school students. This year's group of freshmen entering the high school from Glenbrook and Williams Middle School have united well to make the class of 1994.

With President Jesse Sweet, Vice President Sarah Maggi, Secretary Mike Atheneos, and Treasurer Jim Bell leading the way, the freshmen are headed toward becoming one of the many extremely successful classes at LHS. The freshmen have quickly adjusted to high school, and the new experiences, teachers, and classes that come with it. Everyone is a freshman once in his or her high school career, and this year's group is making the best of it as they prepare for the future.

Freshmen Orientation Day

The class of 1994 was the first class fortunate enough to have a Freshmen Orientation Day. This year, all of the school's freshmen and new students began classes one day earlier than the rest of the students in the school. With the help of Longmeadow High School's sophomores, juniors, and seniors, the freshmen were given tours of the school and had a chance to ask questions and meet teachers.

The day began at 7:30 with a short introductory speech by Dr. Murphy, Assistant-principals Mr. Berte and Mr. Duffy, and the class advisors, Ms. Finn and Mr. Gelinas. Upon conclusion of the speeches, the freshmen were divided into small groups, each led by two upperclassmen involved in the orientation project, and played icebreaker games. Following this, they were guided to their homerooms to get copies of their schedules and to be taken on tours of the building. Freshmen found the orientation program helpful and rewarding.

Volleyball

As the saga of intramural sporting events at Longmeadow High School continued, intramural volleyball jumped into the spotlight. A variety of separate girls and boys teams played fun, non-competitive games against each other in the gymnasium.

Adventurous volleyball players and their friends swarmed together to form teams, with the minimum number of nine members on a team. The different teams were then allowed to choose a unique color of t-shirt that would be reproduced for their entire team in order to heighten their team spirit.

Girls teams included such wacky made-up names as Ten White Santas, Supertorques, Slam Sisters, and The Force. Some boys teams were J's, and Mean Machine.

Dedicated members of the intramural volleyball teams took time to come to after school and evening games in order to help their team toward victory. No matter what the outcome of the games were, the members of the teams always accomplished their number one priority in volleyball - to have fun.

Spirit of Black & White

Sports

Whether running down the track or dribbling the ball down the court, every athlete must possess the spirit and drive to survive. Playing a sport is not something just anyone can do; it takes courage, determination, and team spirit. An athlete must strive to achieve the strength and competitiveness it takes to win. Every player must work hard to gain the special edge that makes him or her a winner. Participating in high school sports gives a person the experience of working with others and prepares a person for life in a way that nothing else can.

Longmeadow High School athletes will graduate to become important and respected people with a sense of pride, courage, and determination that was gained from playing sports.

FOOTBALL

Split Decision Season

This year's varsity football team has definitely come a long way both physically and mentally. Although the beginning of the season was tough, the middle of the season marked a turning point and in the end, the Lancers came out with a balanced 5-5 record. Under the first year coaching of Coach Bush and Senior Captains Chris Barksdale and Matt Sullivan, and with contributions made by key players like Seniors Craig Kaylor and Jason Roberts, the Lancers feel confident about the season's turnout. Coach Bush admitted, "It was a little hard in the beginning for the team to adjust to a new coach as well as for myself to a new team." Either way, Coach Bush is extremely pleased by how much the team matured throughout the season, starting with their emotional win over Chicopee which clearly set the tone for the team by showing their potential. "We grew as a team." As Senior Lee Maggi put it, "We did very well over all, considering we had to get used to new offense and defense plays. Our record does not reflect the team at all. We are a much better team than that."

Junior varsity football also had a very successful season. Under the coaching of Coach Cogswell, they finished this year with a record of 6-3. Key players such as Eric Martenson, Greg MacDonald, Tyler Sutton, Bryan Schmutz, and Dave Szczepanek helped add to the team's success. According to Sophomore Eric Martenson, "Our team played well and with a little more effort, there is a good chance we could be league contenders."

GIRLS SOCCER

Heading to Victory

Though they started the season with a loss to Cathedral 5-0, the setback made them realize that they really needed to start working together in order to achieve success. Coach Delano attributes the team's rough start to the fact that it was their first year in a new division. They emerged from the season with a record of 10-6-2.

In particular, Coach Delano commends key players Junior Rachel LeDuc, Senior Kim VanGaasbeck, Senior Margie Sylvia, Senior Karen Grambach, and Junior Erin Dullea. According to Margie Sylvia, "In the beginning we had to get used to being in the new division, but since we worked so well together, the season started to pick up."

The J.V. girls soccer team also had an exceptional season with a record of 8-2-0 . Coached by Mr. Long, the team managed to beat Cathedral, one of their biggest rivals, in the first game of the season. According to Sophomore Sarah Dibble, "We had a good season, considering that halfway through our season a large percentage of our players were moved up to varsity." Outstanding players include Co-captains Juniors Naomi Herman and Carrie Bullock, Beth Leonard, Elana Sorrell, Heidi Harbison, and Julie Poltack.

Freshman soccer completed a great season this year, ending with a 6-2-0 record. Coached by Gary Maestas, the team flourished and excelled to a point where they beat Cathedral's J.V. team. Exceptional players include Megan Stone, Missy Long, Sarah Maggi, Martha Shay, Lauren Yahres, Carrie Weeks, Jen Martinelli, an Amy Westergom.

BOYS SOCCER

And They Score Again

This year's varsity boys soccer team had an exceptional record of 12-2-3, the most successful in 20 years. The veteran team was led by Seniors Tony Rousou, Chris Martinelli, Chris Leonard, and Junior Brad Miller. Coach Ron Morissette felt this team was the most skilled and the best in head to head competition. Playing against contenders such as Cathedral and West Springfield, the team remained tough and won the Churchill-Moriarty Division. The team also did well in the championship - losing to Ludlow in the semifinals.

The junior varsity had a winning record of 10-4-3 and broke 4 school records including: most assists in a season (22), most players involved in scoring (21), and most goals scored in a season (38). Team leaders included Juniors Steve McCall, Jay Occhiuti, Scott Campbell, Chris Kosowski, and Sophomore Mike Kittredge, who broke a league record by scoring 16 goals in one season. Throughout the season the sophomores gained knowledge and skills from the juniors.

The Freshman boy's soccer team, led by Coach Matthew Tyson, rounded out the season with a 3-5-4 record. Key players Zach Samol, Dan Cohen, and Chris Loonie all aided the team to reach the biggest game of their season, in which they returned from a trailing score in the last 10 seconds to tie the game. Jim Bell quotes "We were an excellent team with good skills. Though our actual record is mediocre, all of the games we played had very close scores."

All the team members look forward to many more winning seasons.

FIELD HOCKEY

Another Tournament Year

Both of the girls field hockey teams completed extremely successful seasons. The varsity team which was led by Co-captain Seniors Amy Walker and Krissy Dolce and coached by Ann Simons finished this year with a record of 9-4-1. The team consisted mainly of experienced varsity players who were joined by newcomers Sophomores Whitney Harrelson, Sarah Shatz, and Christa Bergeron. One highlight of their season included a game against Minnechaug, in which the team was behind for a good part of the game, but came back to win in the last five minutes. Another successful game involved the quarter-final match against Frontier. Ms. Simons commends key players Junior Emily Lord and Senior Lisa Cerasa for their efforts.

The junior varsity team headed by Coach Rita Hawker and Co-captains Lindsey Christie and Alana Boyajian finished the season with an astounding 9-1-2 record. In addition to Christie and Boyajian, Ms. Hawker recognized Sophomore Maura Hennessy for her skill on the field. According to Coach Hawker, "Our turning point came when Freshman Michaela Curran moved into the half-back position at the starting line-up. This gave the team extra support, and they succeeded in being even stronger." However, it was the team's desire to win and teamwork that was the key to the whole season.

GYMNASTICS

League Sportsmanship Award Winners

This year the Longmeadow High School girls gymnastics squad worked to rebuild its program. Captain Dana Raymond, the sole senior, led the young yet spirited team in its meets along with Coach Harvey Stockhammer.

Although the team struggled throughout the season, ending with a 0-10 record, there were some very close meets. Raymond noted that since the squad consisted of 3 freshmen, 6 sophomores, and only one senior, the team can look forward to success in the upcoming seasons.

The enthusiasm of the gymnastics team was evident through both the team dinners and the team's annual "Secret Pumpkin" tradition. The team spirit fostered optimism among the squad.

Captain Dana Raymond commented that, "Many people improved a lot during this season. Hopefully next year the team will have a winning record!"

The camaraderie, optimism, and energy of the LHS gymnastics squad will definitely lead the team to victory in future years!

BOYS CROSS COUNTRY

Running Like the Wind

Nineteen-ninety brought with it another enthusiastic season of Boys Cross Country. The team earned a record of 5-6 and gained valuable experience from their eleven meets. Coached by Gregg Reilly and led by their Senior Captains Jason Nietupski, John Willse, and Junior Captain Mike Gregorski the dedicated team had a season filled with hurdles. Senior John Mayock, Sophomore Charles Baker, Peter McPartland, and Freshman Darren Srebnick also excelled during the 1990 season.

The Cross Country team finished 8 out of 18 teams at the Valley League Championships held at Northfield Mountain, which showed their enormous potential. The team looks forward to many winning seasons in the future. Coach Reilly thought the team's turning point during the Western Mass. Championships was when they beat two teams that they lost to during the regular season. The runners now look toward the future and the underclassmen. From the devotion of both Coach Reilly and the runners, the Boys Cross Country enjoyed a rebuilding season full of spirit.

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY

Victorious Speed

The Longmeadow High School Girls Cross Country Team completed a competitive season with an astounding record of 8-3. Coached by Mr. Reilly and co-captained by Seniors Kelly Daisley and Nancy MacElhiney the team finished third in their division.

"Over the past four years Kelly and I have seen our team improve steadily and this has been the best season we have seen so far," says Captain Nancy MacElhiney. The team conditioned themselves through various speed workouts. Also, they participated in hill-running as well as numerous long distance endeavors.

Key athletes included Seniors Nancy MacElhiney, Kelly Daisley, and Joey Lepow, Juniors Michele Lewis and Val Ormsby.

Team coach Mr. Reilly commented that "we started off with low numbers and injuries really not knowing what the season would bring, but we finished extremely strong and higher than our pre-season expectations."

Thanks to the great amount of dedication, spirit, and athletic ability of the girls on the teams, the team emerged with a high standing.

CHEERLEADING

Energy Plus

GO! FIGHT! WIN! That is typically heard at a football or basketball game coming from our cheerleaders.

There are two sports that have cheerleaders, Varsity and Junior Varsity football and basketball. Their practices are much alike. Each are about two hours long, although Varsity practices are more frequent. They both start off with sideline cheers and then, when the coaches arrive, the squads begin work on main cheers (done during time-outs) and mounts. The Varsity squad is presently working on a cheer for a competition.

Both squads believe that cheerleading is very beneficial. It gives them better muscle tone and control, improves their self-confidence, and is a lot of fun.

Cheerleading is mainly for the fans. It provides entertainment. It helps the team by encouraging them, and when they are encouraged, so are the fans. According to JV Co-captain Shannon Dubay, "cheerleading provides you with exciting experiences and lots of fun and bruises!"

The cheerleaders greatly contributed to the football and basketball games by showing school spirit and exciting the crowd.

BOYS BASKETBALL

On the Rebound

This year, the Boys Basketball teams did surprisingly well. All the teams suffered many injuries and other losses, but all scored important and significant victories.

The Varsity Boys Basketball team had a tough season. Led by Chris Martinelli, Jon Bennett, and top rebounders Brian Schara and Craig Calcasola, the team rallied against all odds. According to Coach Brian Cogswell, "We had a lack of height, but we ended up winning on our defense and determination." The Lancer defense was the key to their season and especially to their game against Westfield where they were down by nine and eventually won by one point.

The Junior Varsity team had a successful season even with the loss of three players. Key players during the season were Juniors Bill Laffey, Glen Rogers, and Sophomores Greg MacDonald, Marc Cerasa, and Matt McGuire, the top rebounder and scorer. The team played especially well against Central and used their strong defense to help them.

The Freshman team also had a year filled with problems. Early in the year, the team lost key starters to injuries. Steve Hoyt, Ed Schultz, Jeremy David, and Pat Lawson helped the team immensely. Coach Charles Mannheim "enjoyed coaching and working hard" with the team.

All the Boys Basketball teams had tough seasons filled with injuries, but all teams won on their determination and are expected to have great seasons in the future.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Wild Women of Western Mass.

One of the most popular girls sports at LHS is basketball. This year all three teams did very well. Varsity had a 13-5 record, J.V. had a record of 17-1, and Freshmen a 8-3 record.

Freshmen Girls Basketball may be the least well-known of the teams, but they were definitely worth watching this year. Most of their opponents were J.V. or 7th - 9th grade teams since few schools have Freshmen teams. In practice, the team centered on drills and lay-ups. The girls had nothing but compliments to say about their coach.

Junior Varsity is the middle group, but they are by no means average as proven by their first place finish.

They trained very similar to Varsity, practicing ball-handling, drills and plays. They also conditioned themselves and sprinted. Their record this year votes well for next year.

LHS's Varsity Girls Basketball is one of the best in Western Mass. The team is eleven players deep which increased their advantages. The team excelled this year for many reasons, which include: terrific passing, great perimeter and inside shooting, and an all-around-well-rounded team. The girls felt that they had to work on their rebounding. They credit their superior performance to their head coach, Mary Murray. She is dynamic and changed the coaching technique so that everyone had fun working hard. They worked together as a team, a quality not unique to the Varsity team, but shared by all the girls participating in the LHS Girls Basketball program.

SWIMMING/DIVING

Wet and Wild

At Longmeadow High School this winter, if you looked into the pool area, you could see splashes of water covering the entire pool. No, this was not an indoor ocean, it was the Longmeadow Swimming and Diving Teams, who worked hard towards a successful season.

This year, the boys' eighteen member team headed by Captains, Seniors Patrick McMonagle and Jason Rothschild did exceptionally well. Their record was 9-2, and the team finished second in the league. Some excellent swimmers who contributed to this were Pat McMonagle and Jim Roger, who showed strong abilities in every stroke. An important meet for the team was against Minnechaug, which competed neck to neck with Longmeadow at the Western Mass meet.

The twenty-five member girls' team, headed by Seniors Laura Boehm, Kim Vangaasbeck, and Julie Zollmann had a 6-5 season. Some important members were Kerry Weeks and Laura Boehm. The factor that helped both teams' success was the all around ability to swim every stroke well.

The Diving Team, although quite small with only four members, worked well together this season.

SKIING

Speeding Down The Slope

The Longmeadow ski team has completed another exciting season. The boys team finished second in the overall season which qualified the entire team to ski at Western Mass. Led by Captains, Seniors Matt Youmell and Chad Reynolds, the team was very pleased with their performance this year and is hoping to place in the top two Western Mass.

The team is coached by Mr. St. George, and is described by one of the team members as a "strong up and coming team." Although the team is losing a lot of seniors this year, they have the ability and potential to do just as well next year.

The girls ski team also enjoyed a promising season this year. After facing strong competition from competitors, the team finished a successful third place in the overall season. Coach St. George will lead the team onto Western Mass, where Junior Rachel LeDuc and Freshman Meira Selby are expected to place in the top ten.

Captain Senior Sonya Schwartz feels that although the team was young and was trying to gain experience, they still remained very "energetic and spunky!"

HOCKEY

Skating Rinks Around Opponents

The Longmeadow High School ice hockey team has had a successful season with a satisfying record of 2-3-1.

The team was skillfully led by Captains Seniors Eric LeDuc, Brian Moran, and Jason Nietupski. Other key players include Goalie Senior Anthony Rousou, Goalie Sophomore Dan McNair, Forward Junior Erik Hutchins, and Forwards Seniors Devin O'Rourke and Chris Leonard. Dedicated Coach Mr. Suzor instills vigorous workouts on his team in order to insure their preparation for each game.

Unfortunately for the Longmeadow team, there has been heavy competition from other school teams. However, thanks to the skill, determination, and spirit of the players, the team was able to reach the highlight of their season by tying East Hampton, one of their toughest rivals.

Coach Suzor has his team play 5 on 3 during practices to increase competition between players and to insure completion of a rigorous workout.

Goalie Tony Rousou comments, "The seniors on our team are very strong this year, and the defense has been especially successful, acting as the backbone of the team. If we keep playing to our potential throughout the rest of the season, we should be definite contenders for the playoffs."

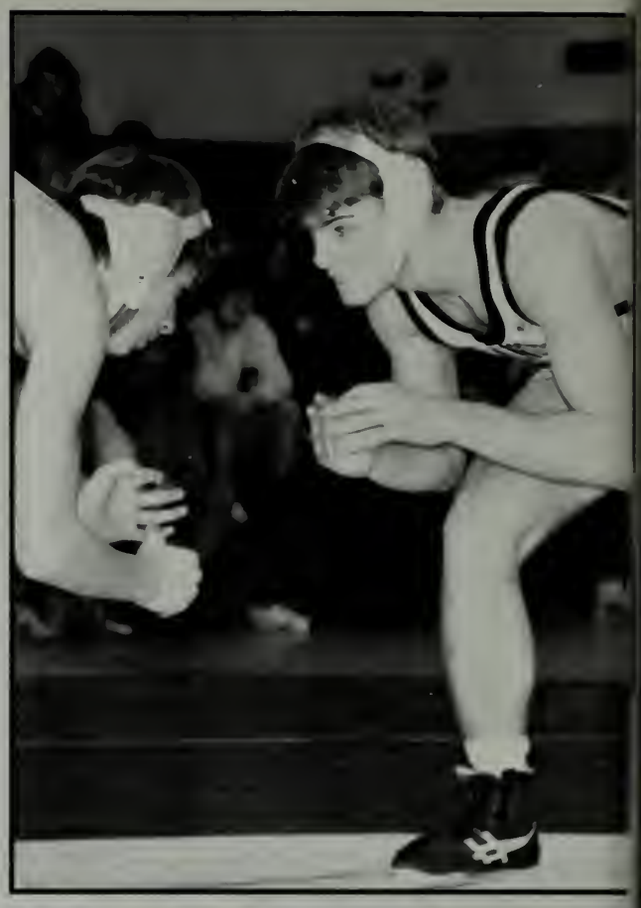
WRESTLING

Pushing For the Pin



Once again the Longmeadow High School Wrestling team has proved itself to be a leader in Western Massachusetts. The team's record of 11-4 has been a great triumph. This success is due in part to head Coach Paul Schmutz and Assistant Coach Alex Efstratos.

Captained by Seniors Brian McFarlin, Steve Sandler, Donny Cash, and Brad Swords, the team improved greatly from last year. Losing only a few members from last season, the group gained more experience and such talents appeared as Sophomore Matt Shaw, Junior Mark Simon, and Sophomore Mike Calvanese. These and all the other members of the team helped Longmeadow win such victories as against Putnum and Westfield. An added bonus to the group this year was the Western Massachusetts championships held at LHS.

Although many seniors will be leaving the varsity Wrestling Team next year, the new talent of the J.V. team and the experience of the rest of the Varsity will be sure to bring us another great year of LHS Wrestling.

Experiencing Black & White

Organizations

Organizations provide the perfect opportunity to express oneself, either academically or artistically, and they give a person the ultimate high school experience. Through club activities a student can gain knowledge which is useful for the real world. Whether it is publishing a newspaper, singing in chorus, or helping the community, everyone involved in a club at LHS experiences many fun and important moments. Through many organizations students show their true colors doing what they like to do best. Extracurricular activities give students the chance to find new friends, develop talents, and realize the key word: involvement. Being involved in an LHS organization is a valuable and enjoyable experience for everyone.

Jet Jotter

LHS is the proud home of two school newspapers. The more traditional of the two, The Jet Jotter, started as a forum to express student opinions and concerns, and continues that tradition today.

The Jet Jotter has a large staff including many experienced and dedicated editors. Editors include Editor-in-Chief Sonya Schwartz, Managing Editor Senior Sameer Brahmavar, and Production Managers Seniors Chris Leonard and Ravi Thakur.

To improve the production of the paper, two major changes have occurred. The first is the incorporation of Business Club into certain sections of The Jet Jotter. The Business Club controls the financial endeavors of The Jet Jotter. The second change is the implementation of a policy requiring staff members to write at least one article every two months. This ensures that all of the people listed as writers in the newspaper are indeed doing their jobs.

The monthly publication is a tough job, involving organized editors meetings to decide upon the content of the paper, the actual assigning and turning in of articles, editing, layouts, and finally printing. However, this year, The Jet Jotter has done a wonderful job in compiling an interesting and exciting newspaper.

In order to enrich their experience in this field, the editorial staff of The Jet Jotter went to a newspaper convention at Holyoke Community College, and they are planning to attend another convention at the Columbia School of Journalism.

The editors of The Jet Jotter are continually improving the quality of the paper. Because of this, the newspaper has won various awards for excellence. It's high standards enable students to learn about the world of journalism in a high school setting.

Rough Draft

LHS is privileged to have two newspapers, one of which is the lighthearted Rough Draft. The Draft is often the forum for complaints and satyrical take-offs on certain school and world events. This year, headed by Editors-in-Chief Senior Elizabeth Lynn and Junior Mike Nadel, the staff of the newspaper has worked hard to improve its contents. Among other improvements, they have changed the layout from newpaper style to magazine style publication. They have started using better quality paper, and have implemented various graphics and writing styles designed in the school writing center.

The Rough Draft focuses in on school life at LHS by dividing the paper into numerous different sections. The paper features an editorials page, in which the editors express their views about school issues, as well as a "Teacher of the Month" section, in which the staff of the Draft chooses to hail a particular teacher for their many recent humorous efforts and accomplishments. The final, and most awaited section of the Rough Draft is the list of Draft Honors, a humorous selection of statements concerning both national, international, and school issues.

The Rough Draft has changed considerably throughout its existence at Longmeadow High School. In many ways, it has been for the better.

Impressions

Longmeadow High School has once again produced another exciting edition of the student magazine Impressions. This high school publication is an accumulation of the finest literary and artistic works produced by the student body. The students' works are anonymously selected by readers from the editorial staff. Those literary works which are chosen by a large number of the staff are printed in the magazine, which is published at the end of the year.

In addition to literary works, students from the art department are invited to submit artistic pieces for evaluation and possible placement into the magazine. The staff of this award winning magazine is led by Editors-in-Chief Seniors Marla Geha and Hannah Freedberg, Publicity Editor Senior Patricia O'Rourke, Literary Editors Senior Jodi Stevens and Junior Anita Raman, Art Editor Senior Michelle Marcoe, and Layout Editor Junior Johanna Themistos.

Senior Editor Hannah Freedberg states, "In my past four years as staff member and editor I feel that Impressions provides a much needed outlet for students' creative energy."

Thanks to the dedicated efforts of Advisor Ms. McShane, along with the devotion of every member of the Impressions staff, this year's magazine was one of the best ever.

Drama Club

The 1990-1991 Drama Club continued the tradition of excellence in acting at Longmeadow High School.

Actress and singer Ms. Vickie Phillips served as the Drama Club advisor for her second consecutive year. She worked with and directed the talented members of the club in productions of the play, Whose Life is it, Anyway?, and the musical, Roar of the Grease Paint, Smell of the Crowd.

The Drama Club competed in the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival in March with the play, Whose Life is it, Anyway? The Drama Club sponsored its annual One-Act-Play Festival in April. The play, Whose Life is it, Anyway?, the musical, Roar of the Grease Paint, Smell of the Crowd, and numerous other "one-acts" were performed.

The dedication and talent of this year's Drama Club promises many more years of success in acting at LHS.

Chorus

The extensive and committed music department at LHS boasts, among other things, some of the most talented high school chorus groups in Massachusetts.

There are four separate chorus groups in Longmeadow High School: Freshman Girls Chorus, taught by Mrs. Pearson, and Mens Chorus, Concert Chorus, and Lyrics, all taught by Mr. Thomsen. Lyrics is a special mixed chorus for talented individuals who are serious about studying and performing vocal music. Lyrics students are selected after extensive auditions. The other choral groups, though not quite as selective in membership consist of dedicated and talented music students. All of the Choral Ensembles combine at times to create beautiful melodies that vibrate out into the music hallway.

Mrs. Pearson is a two year veteran of the Longmeadow High School music department. She states, "My freshman chorus have developed confidence in themselves so that they can sing comfortably, both alone and in a group."

Meanwhile, Mr. Thomsen has been with the LHS music department for 18 years. When asked to comment on the vocal program he said, "I am extremely proud of the work our students do to build on the talents they bring to our program."

In addition to the four regularly meeting chorus classes, a selected group of students are given a chance to enhance their talents through more concentrated study. The first of these more serious groups, called Enchante, consists of a select group of girls from Freshman and Concert Chorus, and is directed by Mrs. Pearson. The second group, I Cantori, consists of members of Lyrics chosen by the blend of their voices by Mr. Thomsen.

The dedication of the chorus teachers combined with the commitment of their students accounts for the beautifully sung musical pieces available to the public at all LHS musical concerts.

Instrumental

The LHS music department has just finished off another extremely successful year. Led by Michael Mucci, the groups played a variety of challenging pieces both to delight their vast audiences at concerts and to prepare them for their future endeavors as musicians.

Longmeadow High School had fifteen instrumentalists who were accepted to the Western Massachusetts Senior District Festival. It is quite an honor to be accepted to play in this festival. Of the LHS students who were elected to be in the festival, many received All-State recommendations. All-state involves the best instrumentalists from all over the state of Massachusetts.

The Wind Ensemble this year has been very much a part of extra curricular school activities. They played at the annual Bonfire in September to kick off the school sports, and were also involved in the pep band which played at the home Lancer football games.

The Jazz Band, a select group of extremely talented band musicians, has dazzled many audiences with their spectacular performances this year. They have been ranked best in the state for the past five years.

The orchestra, consisting of an array of skilled cellists, violinists, and violists, has also had an extremely productive year, churning out hour upon hour of beautiful music for all to hear.

The diversity of the music played by the groups is great as always.

Keyettes

The dedication of the student members to volunteerism once again made the Keyettes a successful and effective organization this year.

Miss Wilkinson advised the club which was led by President Elizabeth Lehman, First Vice-President Apryl Jalonen, Second Vice-President Scott Conrad, Secretary Rachel Glazer, Treasurer Julie Zollmann, and Parliamentarian Eriko Watanabe.

This year the Keyettes worked on numerous fundraisers to benefit the Hunger Project. These included the Keyette Carnival, sales of chocolate bunnies, penny candy sales, and the Walk for Hunger in Springfield.

The Keyettes also busied themselves with projects other than fundraisers. Many members devoted time to the elderly of Longmeadow, the American Heart Association phone-athons, the Gifts and Glitter crafts fair, face-painting at the Forest Park Zoo, and donations to the Open Pantry and the Giving Tree.

Some members were rewarded with a trip to the National Keyette Convention in Washington, D.C. President Elizabeth Lehman noted that the LHS Keyettes have repeatedly received national recognition for spirit, the scrapbook, and money raised by the club.

The spirited community service of the Keyettes continues the tradition of selfless volunteerism by LHS students to help others.

Key Club

The Key Club continues its reign as one of the most active clubs at LHS. With over 100 members eager to participate in the many activities benefiting both the school and the community, it's easy to see why. As well as running the annual Variety Show, the Key Club also held a canned food drive through which thousands of cans were obtained, and they also organized a townwide clean-up. In addition, the group continued to usher and work at the concession stands during football games, help the elderly citizens in town with various jobs, and visit Shriner's Hospital. The Key Club also sponsored the fabulous Magician's Basketball Game and made food baskets for needy families on Thanksgiving. They raised over $3000 through a peanut sale drive earlier this year as well. The money goes to needy charities such as the Kiwanas Pediatric Trauma Institute in Boston. It is activities like these that have led the group to its status as the number one Key Club in New England.

The group's success can also be attributed to the officers of the group. Led by President Brian Srebnick, First Vice-President Andrew White, Second Vice-President Brett Sarnoff, Secretary Parisa Golkar, and Treasurer Mark Sedran, and under the supervision of Advisor James Climo, the Key Club continues to grow and flourish. The Key Club requires each of its members to participate in 10 hours of service through the various community-helping activities. According to Senior Brian Srebnick, "Members this year have become more active and have realized how much fun community service can be."

SADD

With over eighty members, SADD - Students Against Drunk Driving is definitely making a statement at Longmeadow High School. Through SADD, students are trying to bring across the message that people do not have to drink to have fun. Some of their methods of emphasizing this is through posters hung around the school and by planning activities such as a dance in which people can have fun without the pressure of alcohol. Another message SADD students wish to convey is that although they do not want students to drink, if students ever find themselves in a situation in which they are under the influence, they shouldn't drive. Other activities which SADD has done are selling T-shirts and keychains. They are also in the process of planning an exciting docudrama.

Under the supervision of Mr. Duffy and with President Sarah Kittredge, Vice-President Vicki Lauro, Secretary Anita Raman, and Treasurer Mike Gregorski, the club is becoming very strong, increasing from a membership of twenty students last year. According to Junior Sarah Kittredge, "People get killed every year by drinking and driving and many times the victims are innocent people. I don't want to get hurt or others to be hurt by the actions of some stupid kids."

PULL/New Directions

Longmeadow High School is fortunate enough to have two student-run groups that deal with the problem of substance abuse in Longmeadow High School. These are PULL and New Directions, and both are advised by Mr. Crumb, the school Substance Abuse Coordinator.

PULL, or Peer Understanding through Listening and Learning, tours Longmeadow middle schools to discuss with and educate the children on the subject of the various hazards of drugs and alcohol.

New Directions is a group which offers alternative activities from the drug and alcohol abuse on weekends. This year, among other activities, they have planned a student-faculty volleyball game, a sleigh ride, and a ski trip.

A third group newly formed last year, the Peer Listeners, has stemmed off of the two original programs, and has taken root in the Longmeadow High School system. This group offers a peer support network for students who have emotional concerns, but are not comfortable discussing them with professional counselors. The student to student counseling provided by the peer listeners often helps the troubled student to better understand his or her problem, as well as the possible solutions.

These three groups involve many dedicated students with the true desire to help others. Although all three groups have been only a few years in existence, they have in that time made many achievements in providing alternatives to substance abuse.

International Club

The International Club at Longmeadow High School provides students with the opportunity to learn more about the world in which they live. The club was headed during this, its fifth year of existence by President Senior Eriko Watanabe, Vice-Presidents Seniors Justin Polga and David Lee, Treasurer Senior Catherine Egan, Secretary Senior Laurel Hayes, Publicity Coordinator Senior Emily Heaphy, and Art Coordinator Senior Mitch Magee. The dedication and spirit of Mr. Peter Santos, the International Club's advisor, also greatly aided the organization in its numerous accomplishments of this year.

President Eriko Watanabe commented that the purpose of the club is, "to make students more aware and appreciative of different cultures as well as international affairs." This year the club accomplished its goal by sponsoring numerous Awareness Days. These included an El Salvador Awareness Day as well as a Political Awareness Day, featuring Town First-selectman Iris Holland. Other political activities included the Harvard and Springfield College Model United Nations, a school-wide mock election, a "Citizen B" trivia contest, and also a geography contest sponsored by the American Express Credit Card Company.

If you are interested in exploring different world cultures and want to become better informed about world affairs, then it would definitely be in your interests to become a member of the International Club.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a group that recognizes exemplary students. To be selected for this special honor, one must have demonstrated superior leadership skills, academic achievements, and community service. Academically, one must have 16 points by the beginning of junior year, and 18 points by the senior year. In one's final grades for the year, an "A" is 2 points, a "B" is 1 point, a "C" is no points, and a "D" is minus 1 point. During the junior year, an additional point is added for those students taking A.P. or honors courses. This year, there were 88 new members. Leading them is NHS advisor Mrs. Pincus, President Tammy Butler, Vice President Jodi Stevens, Secretaries Catherine Egan and David Kim, Treasurer Justin Polga, and Tutoring Chairpersons Deborah Hoffman and Emily Heaphy. The members of NHS run the book store, tutor LHS students during the day free of charge, and provide some scholarships for students who are going to college. The academic tradition of excellence at LHS is continued by the achievements and contributions of these students.

Outing Club

If a hiking trip to Mt. Tom or a canoeing trip on the Connecticut River sounds interesting to you, Outing Club may be the place to be. The Outing Club is an organization offering many outdoor activities as a means of enjoying nature and escaping from the pressures of school. The group, consisting of fifteen members with a range of freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors, meets every other Tuesday afternoon in the senior lounge. There, under the supervision of Mr. Duffy and led by the planning committee of Senior Hannah Freedberg and Sophomore Dawn Wilson, invigorating trips are planned and outdoor skills are learned.

As well as providing a chance to experience nature through the various excursions planned, the Outing Club's events also enable one to get physical exercise in the fresh outdoors. Events planned for the spring include such activities as deep sea fishing, down hill and cross-country skiing, and another canoeing trip. Senior Hannah Freedberg feels the Outing Club helps students gain an appreciation of nature. "The Outing Club is a wonderful opportunity for students to enjoy the natural world and the company of their friends at the same time."

Debate Team

The Debate Team has had a very successful year under the guidance of Ms. Schwartzberg. President, Senior Justin Polga sums up the season by stating, "We've had a strong year in terms of debating, our membership is up, and we have a very bright future."

Expert debaters on the team include Seniors Justin Polga, Patricia O'Rourke, and Hannah Freedberg and Juniors Mike Nadel, Rekha Murthy, Brenna Sheehan, Dan Liptzin, and Danielle Feldman. These talented speakers have led the team many times to victory in both Lincoln-Douglass and Policy debate.

For those who are not familiar with the field of high school debate, Lincoln-Douglass debating is done individually, and the topic, which normally deals with the morals and values of today's society, changes monthly. The judge awards the team which gives the most persuasive argument.

Policy debate involves a team of two debaters each, and the topic remains the same throughout the entire year. The 1990-1991 topic deals with Space Exploration, and the teams are judged on the diligency of gathering research of evidence.

The highlight of this year's debate season was a Longmeadow-hosted tournament featuring debating teams from throughout New England, held on January 19.

The debaters and Ms. Schwartzberg have high hopes for the future of the Debate Team.

Equestrian Club

This year the equestrian team makes its debut in the Masacksic. The team is in its third year and is gaining momentum.

Every week the seventeen members travel to Bobbin Hollow in Amherst. At the stable they split into two groups and each has a one hour lesson. Led by their advisor, Ms. Sandy Teare, the team benefits greatly from these weekly visits. Even though these lessons are educational, the club concentrates most on the fun they have while riding.

This year, the equestrian team is planning to compete in two to four shows. It will enter about five riders in each one. Each member will learn from watching friends and teammates compete.

For the equestrian team the only requirements for membership are love of horses and having fun. They look forward to a wonderfully bright future in the coming years.

Collaboratives

Longmeadow High School has incorporated this year into its school system a special program for students interested in obtaining careers immediately after graduating from high school. This program is called Career Skills, and consists of three classes with a total of 24 students from the surrounding towns of Agawam, West Springfield, Springfield, Wilbraham, Longmeadow, East Longmeadow, and Hampden.

The students work with teachers Diane Regrey and Mary McGarr-Mead, and assistants Sue Fath, Shirley Homans, Linda Pereira, Betty Yefko, and Michelle Yvon in order to meet their graduation requirements and to find out about the career oriented world around them.

Career Skill students complete all the required courses, (English, Math, Science, and Social Studies), and in addition spend much time on a special course called career education, in which the students learn about the process of applying for and securing jobs, and the actions one should take to become a good employee. On various occasions, this course takes the Career Skill students on field trips, so that they can go out into the working world and receive hands-on experience.

Longmeadow High School is privileged to be able to give such an option as the Career Skill Program to students of surrounding towns. Thanks to this program 24 students are on their way to a bright, career oriented future.

Math/Science Team

The Science Team, led by Advisor Mr. Hirsch, is having a very successful year. Recently started last spring, the team competes against seven other schools - East Longmeadow, Central, Westfield, South Hadley, Pioneer Valley, Minnechaug, and Curtis Falls. The meets are held once a month. There are three events at each meet which differ every time, ranging from categories such as the periodic table to interpreting graphs to building a vehicle powered by a balloon. The thirty-member team usually has two groups of four people for every event. Of the previous four meets, Longmeadow has won two and placed second in one. The events are prepared by faculty members of the schools in the league. Mr. Hirsch, who recently ran an event, claimed that he has as much fun as the kids do. He further commented, "The Science Team is a fun competition. It's a really good learning experience."

The Math Team has been fairing well in its competitions also. Led by Advisor Mr. Daniels and Captain Josh Mandell, the team competes in five meets - one meet per month. Six people compete in each meet - a maximum of three seniors and five upperclassmen, and at least one underclassman. The meet consists of six categories ranging from Arithmatic & Number Theory to Trigonometry & Complex Numbers. For each category, a student is given ten minutes to answer three questions worth a total of six points. The amount of points for individual problems depends on the difficulty of the problem. Each member participates in three categories. The Math Team consists of Seniors Josh Mandell, Stephen Lin, Eriko Watanabe, Michael Gordan, and Chris Leonard; Juniors Max Jacobs, Anita Raman, and Hyeon Kim, and Sophomore Rob Joyce. Of the seventeen schools in the league, the team consistently places third behind Deerfield and Amherst. Mr. Daniels feels the Math Team is important because, "It is a way to compete mentally instead of physically as in sports."

Chess Team

Rook to Queen 4. Bishop to King 3. Checkmate. If you play chess, then these terms are familiar to you. Though small in membership, the chess team is definitely not short on talent. They presently have an excellent record of 5-2.

Under the tutelage of their advisor, Mrs. Sutter, the team practices about once a week and has about one meet every week for two months. The Longmeadow High School Chess Team competes with other Western Mass Schools in their division and then at the Western Mass. Tournament.

Senior Steve Lin states, "Our record is very good, considering the fact that four out of five team members last year graduated, leaving us with a new, inexperienced team."

The team's single biggest rival is Amherst, against which they lost twice. According to Lin, though, both games were extremely close.

The scoring of meet games is rather complicated. Five games are played at each meet, and each straight win gains one point for the team, while each stalemate or draw equals 1/2 point.

The team practices consist of heavy review and analysis of past games, and dedicated advisor Mrs. Sutter is helpful to the success of the meets.

The team presently consists of Seniors Steve Lin, Dwight Collings, and Davyd Ramirez, as well as Sophomore Dave Shum and Freshman David Lao.

ABC/Metco

Longmeadow High School currently participated in a nationwide program which transports students who are not able to receive a quality education from their urban high school systems to selected suburban high schools such as LHS, in which the students can get a quality education. This program is called A Better Chance (ABC), and lives up to its name by giving selected students a better chance for a successful life.

This year's LHS ABC participants come mainly from New York City and Boston, and reside during the school year in a Longmeadow home purchased for them by the ABC organization.

ABC is a non-profit cause which raised its own money through various fundraisers, one of these being the annual ABC road race sponsored by the Bank of Boston.

Six male students currently reside in the Longmeadow ABC house. They are Seniors Juan Cedeno, Dwight Collings, and Davyd Ramirez, as well as Derick Weaver, Dave Shum and Khalid Boyd. They live with two resident advisors, in this case a young married couple dedicated to the ABC cause.

ABC student Juan Cedeno summed up the purpose of ABC best when he said, "ABC takes the students from inner city schools and places them in quality suburban schools so that they get a better chance to be successful. This is where the name of our group came from." Thanks to the ABC program Juan, Dwight, Davyd, Dave, Derick, and Khalid are on their way to successful futures.

In addition to ABC, Longmeadow High School fosters a METCO program in which dozens of Springfield students are taught at Longmeadow High School. Both programs have been extremely successful this year and are destined to improve more in the future.

AFS

AFS, or American Field Service, has a main purpose of promoting understanding of other countries and cultures by both American and foreign students. This year, AFS is full swing as an extracurricular club at LHS. The organization is headed by President Senior Marcia Metz, Vice President Senior Damaris Curran, Secretary Senior Laurel Hayes, Treasurer Junior LaShaun Skillings, Publicity Chairperson Senior Kelly Daisley, and Committee Chairperson Senior Catherine Egan and advised by Mrs. Maloney. This year, AFS hosts two foreign exchange students at Longmeadow High School, Rebecca Huteau from Australia and Naoyoki Onoe from Japan.

At a typical weekly AFS meeting, members work together to plan events, and fellow students speak to their peers about their travels to foreign countries.

Among some of the events AFS plans are the International Music Contest held during Foreign Language Week, the Thanksgiving Gift Basket preparation for needy families, and an International Exchange Weekend. During this weekend, usually sometime in March, AFS students host students from another high school in New England. Longmeadow students also prepare an international dinner as part of the weekend activities. The following weekend, the Longmeadow AFS students are hosted by members of the other New England high schools which they accomodated.

None of these projects would be possible without funding. As part of their efforts, AFS held the school pumpkin and candy cane calls during the holidays. Also, you may have seen AFS members walking down the hall heavily laden with bags of M&M's. This is another one of their popular fundraising activities.

With fun and culturally interesting activities, as well as a variety of successful fundraisers, AFS has had one of its best years ever.

As Schools Match Wits: A. Schweiger, L. Silverman, M. Pomerantz, M. Jacobs.

As Schools Match Wits

It has been a short, yet intense season for the members of the As Schools Match Wits team. As Schools Match Wits, a locally aired high school quiz show hosted by Phil Sheperdson, employs students from various high school in Western Mass to compete against each other, pitting mind against mind, for the grand title of the season.

This year Longmeadow High School's team included members David Lee and Maurice Pomerantz, both seniors who are veterans from last year's team, and Lisa Silverman and Arlen Schweiger, both juniors. The team also had two alternates, Senior Patrick McMonagle and Junior Max Jacobs.

The team only appeared on one show because of a first round loss which aired on December 29, 1990. Although they lost, team member Lisa Silverman recalls, "It was a very close game," which might have been won by a single capitalization by the Lancers.

Ms. Schwartzberg, the team's advisor, drilled the team members and alternates at each one of their practices by asking questions of various nature from trivia books to increase their knowledge and reaction time. Through her guidance and dedication the team was able to feel successful despite the defeat.

Business Club

Four years ago, a small group of students, with the aid of Mrs. Browne, established an organization to help students experience various aspects of the business world. The club is still running strong, with many dedicated members and a devoted advisor, Mrs. Morse.

The club itself is run as a business. Members invest money in stocks and bonds, donate money to worth while causes, and run various fundraisers. The club raises money in a variety of ways. They operate the Student Store, open daily in the LHS cafeteria during lunches, and also hold the annual Type-athon, a competition among typing students to raise money by obtaining pledges for the number of words they can type in one minute. They also organize their own ever-popular M&M fundraiser, as well as the Mac fundraiser, in order to raise money for computer supplies.

The Business Club also sponsors two business days each year. Business in the Nineties is a special day when eight professionals from various businesses come to the school to talk to students about the business world. People came to speak this year from Milton Bradley, as well as certain brokerage firms and banks.

In addition to Business in the Nineties, an Entrepreneur Day is held in which members of the business club visit a variety of businesses in Western Massachusetts an throughout New England.

One of the main activities of the Business Club is the operation of the Advertising Department of the Jet Jotter. They control the circulation, sales, and advertising of this publication. Some of the profits from their sales are re-invested, while the rest is donated to various charities.

The Business Club hopes to spark an interest in the world of business in the minds of the youth of today. After all, we will be the professional corporate executives and entrepreneurs of tomorrow.

Yearbook

Masacksic: A few people can spell it, fewer can pronounce it, but almost no one knows what it actually means. In reality, Masacksic is the Indian name for the site on which Longmeadow was constructed, and therefore, the chosen name of the Longmeadow High School yearbook.

The yearbook, in many ways is like a history book; it enables one to relive memories of high school years when one is "old and grey." Unlike yearbooks of the past, which gave the most coverage to seniors, the Masacksic now covers both the seniors and the underclassmen equally.

In order to serve its purpose better, the Masacksic is divided into different sections. The Senior section includes portraits and indexes of the seniors, as well as the special senior events. The Underclass department covers activities of grades nine through eleven. The Organization Staff is responsible for laying out the extracurricular club pages. The Sports staff researches team records and certain athletic events. Photography is in charge of taking pictures. The Copy department writes all the articles to go with corresponding sections of the yearbook, and the Business department is in charge of selling ads and taking care of the yearbook's revenue.

The Masacksic is considered one of New England's better yearbooks. Its superiority is attributed to the dedication of the yearbook staff, all of whom are willing to sacrifice much time in order to make sure each page is outstanding. From the dedicated Editors-in-Chief Archana Unni and Eriko Watanabe, to every staff member, everyone contributes to make our yearbook as wonderful as it is.

Commitment to Black & White

Faculty

When looking back over the years, we will remember a few high school teachers that really influenced our lives. Maybe it was their enthusiasm, their insight, or their vast knowledge of the subject that made them special to us. Whatever it was, these teachers were able to affect our lives for the better and shape our attitudes toward the subjects they teach. The teachers at LHS are doing this every day. Through their energy and interest in their students, they make Longmeadow High School the excellent academic facility that it is today. Not only do they provide each student with a wonderful education, they also act as role models. Many student/teacher relationships are formed and greatly benefit the students' lives. Teachers have taught us much of what we know, and upon this foundation, we will base the rest of our lives.

Foundation of Black & White

Ads

Without the ads in the following pages it would be difficult to capture any of the spirit of Black and White. The funds from these generous contributions are always an essential part of the yearbook. Not only are these businesses part of our yearbook, they have been and will be important parts of our lives during our high school years. We would not be the same without businesses like Chez Josef and Armata's.

This year we have added an extra special touch to our business section — parents. Senior parents and families have put in special messages for their graduating seniors. So, this section is as important to us as everything else we do at LHS. We hope you will take advantage of its wealth.

The World in Black and White

Top Middle - EARTH DAY - On April 22, an estimated 200 million people all over the planet celebrated the 20th anniversary of Earth Day as activists pleaded for the rise of a new "conservation generation" to care for the fragile environment.

Opposite Page, Bottom - SOUTHERN FLOODS - The Southern U.S. spent much of the spring recovering after weeks of flooding turned entire towns into muddy lakes where buildings poked up like tree stumps, and the toll of shattered lives was tremendous.

Left - IRAQI PRESIDENT SADDAM HUSSEIN - The portrait of Saddam Hussein shows a man with a strange duality: tough, yet fearful; inspiring fear in his own people, yet also basking in a kind of populist veneration from many of the region's Arabs.

Above - FLAG PROTECTION ACT - The U.S. Senate rejected a constitutional amendment against flag burning on June 26. President Bush called for approval of the measure, but the House rejected it with Democrats saying it placed limits on free speech.

Opposite Page, Top Left - DAVID SOUTER JOINS SUPREME COURT - David H. Souter, a mild-mannered, well-read and previously little-known judge from New Hampshire, became history's 105th Supreme Court Justice in October (1990) after pledging to "do equal right to the poor and to the rich." Souter joins the court at a pivotal time in history.

Top Middle - NELSON MANDELA WORLD TOUR - Massive crowds turned out for African National Congress leader Nelson Mandela at every stop on his tour of three continents. Mandela visited 14 nations achieving his goals. Mandela, one of the world's most celebrated political prisoners, was freed by South Africa in February after 27 years in prison. He was serving a life sentence for allegedly plotting sabotage to overthrow the white government.

Opposite Page Bottom - U.S. TROOPS LEAVE FOR MIDDLE EAST- As of mid-October (1990), more than 200,000 U.S. troops had been deployed to Saudi Arabia, Pentagon sources said. They are preparing to defend the desert kingdom from a possible Iraqi attack. The soldiers are being flown on commercial jetliners, meeting up with their roughly 300 Mi-Abrams tanks and other equipment which was shipped from their bases several weeks prior.

Above - CINCINNATI REDS WIN WORLD SERIES - The Cincinnati Reds, given no chance to beat the Oakland Athletics, needed only four quick games to win the World Series in one of the biggest upsets in baseball history. The Reds completed their improbable sweep on October 20 (1990) in spite of losing two star players, Eric Davis and Billy Hatcher, to injuries. Cincinnati rallied for two runs in the eighth inning to win 2-1, and that was it.

SPECIAL THANKS TO:
Mr. Potvin - For the countless words of wisdom and the endless supply of "Potvin captions."
Mrs. Dudley - For always bringing us the punch bowl.
Mr. Lendry - For showing us the wonders of the marble background.
Mr. Steinmetz and Dave - For all the "as fast as you can" developing.
The Custodians - For letting us stay until 10:00.
Our Parents - For keeping our lives in order while we were in room 213.
